

DISCHARGE OF STUDENT LOAN DEBT IN BANKRUPTCY
PRO BONO CLE TRAINING PROGRAM

Wednesday, June 8, 2016

6:00-8:30 PM

The New York City Bar's Committee on Bankruptcy and Corporate Reorganization and the City Bar Justice Center's Consumer Bankruptcy Project will be conducting a free 2.5 hour pro bono CLE training program on discharging student loan debt through bankruptcy.

The CLE training program is open to attorneys and firms who are interested in volunteering with the Project and can commit to taking on one(1) bankruptcy student loan dischargeability case over the course of the year. The program will feature a panel of bankruptcy attorneys who have successfully litigated pro bono student loan dischargeability cases in bankruptcy court. The panel will provide a nuts and bolts training on how to litigate a student loan debt matter under the undue hardship criteria of the bankruptcy code, provide best practices and tips, and discuss alternatives to a bankruptcy discharge.

Panelists:

Aaron Cahn, Carter Ledyard & Milburn LLP

Jeffrey Chubak, Storch Amini & Munves PC

Michael Kessler, Proskauer Rose LLP

Jeffrey D. Vanacore, Perkins Coie LLP

Registration:

Participants should register by June 1, 2016. This is a free 2.5 CLE credit program. No fee is required provided you agree to take on a pro bono student loan case over the course of the year. Please register by filling out and emailing the registration form. To obtain more information please contact the Project Director, Ramona Morel., at 212- 382-4783 or by e-mail at Rmorel@nycbar.org.
