III. General professional experience:

My professional career has been entirely in the practice of law. In this regard, in addition to my substantive law practice, I have also sought out and brought in new clients for my firm, developed client relationships, and managed client accounts.

IV. General pertinent experience:

I currently manage the Bankruptcy Practice Group for a Queens based law firm. In this capacity I am in charge of overseeing all bankruptcy matters in which our firm is retained. Under my supervision, our firm has represented hundreds of individuals in Chapter 7 from filing to discharge; successfully confirmed numerous Chapter 13 Plans with many of them completing their Plan and receiving a discharge. I have also guided businesses through Chapter 11 Reorganizations including reaching agreements with secured creditors for use of cash collateral, obtaining Debtor in Possession Financing, drafting Chapter 11 Plans and Disclosure Statements, and prosecution of Preference Actions.

Our firm also has a robust creditor's side practice. In this area, under my guidance, we have obtained modification of the automatic stay including in rem relief on behalf of secured creditors seeking to protect their security interests; successfully defended creditors in avoidance actions against Chapter 7 Trustees and Chapter 11 Debtors in Possession; ensured distribution on behalf of creditors under Chapter 11 Reorganization Plans, and litigated third party leasehold rights in the context of a Debtor's §365(h) rejections.

Over the course of my time in practice, I have developed strong relationships with many of the panel trustees in both the Eastern and Southern Districts of New York, as well as many of the regular bankruptcy practitioners. I appear regularly in front of the judges for the Eastern District of New York on behalf of Debtors, Creditors, and Interested Parties.

Aside from my bankruptcy practice, I also have experience in real estate and commercial related litigation in state courts throughout the Greater New York City area. I have represented borrowers in foreclosures, parties in real estate ownership disputes, and litigated quiet title actions, partition actions, deed fraud disputes, fraudulent conveyances, and adverse possession actions. I have successfully negotiated numerous settlements on behalf of my clients in many of these cases.

V. Mediation training:

In December 2019, I completed the American Bankruptcy Institute's / St. John's University School of Law Forty Hour Bankruptcy Mediation Training Program.

VI. Pertinent bankruptcy training:

I have represented Debtors through both Chapter 11 & 13 restructuring. My work has included gaining DIP Financing approval, prosecuting avoidance actions, filing motions to value collateral and bifurcate liens, ensuring compliance with Trustee reporting requirements, and proposing and confirming reorganization plans. I have also represented creditors in ensuring appropriate distribution on their claims under Chapter 11 Plans; defending creditors and third parties in avoidance actions; moving for and obtaining stay relief including In Rem relief from the automatic stay; and defending non-Debtor tenants leasehold interests in the face of 365(h) rejections and proposed 363(f) sales.

VII. General pertinent business or legal experience:

In addition to my practice described above, I have published numerous articles for the American Bankruptcy Institute, local community newspapers and for my firm's online social media platforms. I have appeared live on Jus Hindi, a Punjabi English TV Station, where I discussed bankruptcy basics to a national audience. I have lectured on creditor's rights in bankruptcy for the National Academy of Continuing Legal Education and served as a volunteer judge for the Duberstein Moot Court Competition and the ABA National Appellate Advocacy Competition.
