UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY JUDGE

I. INTRODUCTION

Pending before the Court is the motion of the Defendant, Rothschild & Co. Bank AG (sued as Rothschild Bank AG Zurich (Dublin) a/k/a Rothschild Bank AG) (“RCBAG” or “Defendant”), to dismiss the Fifth Amended Complaint (the “Amended Complaint” or “Am. Compl.”) for lack of personal jurisdiction. Mot. to Dismiss (the “Motion”), ECF¹ No. 745. The parties did not request oral argument on the Motion, and instead indicated that they were resting on the papers. See Letter re: Status of Remaining Oral Arguments, Ex. A, ECF No. 1323. For the reasons set forth herein, the Court DENIES the Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss.

II. JURISDICTION

The Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334 and 157 and the Amended Standing Order of Reference dated January 31, 2012 (Preska, C.J.). This Court previously concluded that it has subject matter jurisdiction over this and related actions. See In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., 2018 WL 3756343 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Aug. 6, 2018) (“Fairfield I”); see also Stip. Order, ECF No. 577. Personal jurisdiction is contested by the Defendant and will be discussed below.

III. BACKGROUND

This adversary proceeding was filed on September 21, 2010. See ECF No. 1; see also Amended Complaint Against All Defendants (the “Complaint” or “Compl.”), ECF No. 8. Kenneth M. Krys and Greig Mitchell (the “Liquidators”), in their capacities as the duly appointed Liquidators and Foreign Representatives of Fairfield Sentry Limited (In Liquidation) (“Sentry”), ¹ Citations to this Court’s electronic docket refer to the docket of Adv. Pro. No. 10-03636-jpm unless otherwise noted.

Fairfield Sigma Limited (In Liquidation) (“Sigma”), and Fairfield Lambda Limited (In Liquidation) (“Lambda” and, together with Sentry and Sigma, the “Fairfield Funds” or the “Funds”) filed the Amended Complaint on August 12, 2021. See Am. Compl., ECF No. 679. Via the Amended Complaint, the Liquidators seek the imposition of a constructive trust and recovery of over $1.7 billion in redemption payments made by Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda to various entities known as the Citco Subscribers. Id. ¶¶ 1–2, 205–06; id. Exs. A–C.² Of that amount, Defendant allegedly received approximately $10.097 million³ through redemption payments from its investment in Sentry and Sigma from June 2004 through November 2008 (the “Investment Period”). Memorandum of Law in Opposition to Rothschild & Co Bank AG’s Motion to Dismiss (the “Opposition” or “Opp’n”) at 14, ECF No. 1140; see also Declaration of Joshua S. Margolin in Support of the Liquidators’ Opposition (“Margolin Decl.”) Exs. 3–4, 9–11, 53–54, ECF No. 1141 (Redemption Records).

A. THE BLMIS PONZI SCHEME

This adversary proceeding arises out of the decades-long effort to recover assets of the Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC (“BLMIS”) Ponzi scheme.⁴ See Am. Compl. ¶ 1, ECF No. 679. The Citco Subscribers allegedly invested, either for their own account or for the ² At the time of the filing of the Amended Complaint, the Plaintiffs made no specific allegations as to the exact amounts received by any of the beneficial shareholders. With respect to RCBAG, the Amended Complaint states in relevant part that “[b]ased on Fund records, some or all of the Redemption Payments made to the Citco Subscribers may have been paid to an account holder or holders associated with the Beneficial Shareholder, Rothschild Bank AG Zurich (Dublin) a/k/a Rothschild Bank AG.” Am. Compl. ¶ 97, ECF No. 679. The Amended Complaint alleges that several other defendants may have received redemption payments made to the Citco Subscribers. Id. ¶¶ 34–112. This opinion concerns only those payments that the Plaintiffs allege were paid to RCBAG.

⁴ The Court will not recount all details concerning the Ponzi scheme perpetrated by Madoff. Details of that scheme have been recounted by many courts. See, e.g., In re Madoff, 598 B.R. 102, 106 (S.D.N.Y. 2019), aff’d 818 F. App’x 48 (2d Cir. 2020).

account of others, into several funds — including Sentry, Sigma, and Lambda — that channeled investments into BLMIS. Id. ¶¶ 2, 5, 15.

Fairfield Sentry was a direct feeder fund in that it was established for the purpose of bringing investors into BLMIS, thereby allowing Madoff’s scheme to continue. Id. ¶¶ 5; 133–34; see also In re Picard, 917 F.3d 85, 93 (2d Cir. 2019) (“A feeder fund is an entity that pools money from numerous investors and then places it into a ‘master fund’ on their behalf. A master fund—what Madoff Securities advertised its funds to be—pools investments from multiple feeder funds and then invests the money.”). Fairfield Sigma and Lambda, in contrast, were indirect feeder funds, established to facilitate investment in BLMIS through Fairfield Sentry for foreign currencies. See Am. Compl. ¶¶ 133–34. BLMIS used investments from feeder funds, like the Fairfield Funds, to satisfy redemption requests from other investors in the scheme. Id. ¶¶ 5–7, 13. Without new investors, BLMIS would have been unable to make payments to those who chose to withdraw their investments, and the scheme would have fallen apart. Id. ¶¶ 7–8, 12–14, 134.

The Amended Complaint alleges that investors received payments on account of their shares in the Fairfield Funds based on a highly-inflated Net Asset Value (“NAV”). Id. ¶ 7. The Citco Subscribers and the beneficial shareholders were allegedly such investors. Id. To calculate the NAV, administrators used statements provided by BLMIS that showed “securities and investments, or interests or rights in securities and investments, held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.” Id. ¶ 136. In fact, no securities were ever bought or sold by BLMIS for Sentry, and none of the transactions on the statements ever occurred. Id. ¶ 137. The money sent to BLMIS by the Fairfield Funds for the purchase of securities was instead used by Bernard Madoff to pay other investors or was “misappropriated by Madoff for other unauthorized uses.” Id. The NAVs were miscalculated, and redemption payments were made in excess of the true value of the shares. Id.

¶ 139. The Fairfield Funds were either insolvent when the redemption payments were made or were made insolvent by those payments. Id.

RCBAG is a “corporate entity organized under the laws of Switzerland” with a registered address in Zurich, Switzerland. Id. ¶ 97. RCBAG allegedly invested into and redeemed shares of Sentry and Sigma through “several companies within the Citco corporate family.” Opp’n at 6, ECF No. 1140. Investments into the Funds were registered in the name of Citco Fund Services (Europe) B.V., and Citco Global Custody N.V (together, “Citco Global Custody”). Id. at 5. Citco Bank Nederland N.V. Dublin Branch (“Citco Bank”) allegedly carried out subscriptions and redemptions on behalf of RCBAG and other investors. Id. Citco Bank and Citco Global Custody (collectively, the “Citco Subscriber”)⁵ served as the subscriber of record for RCBAG’s shares of the Fairfield Funds. See id. at 5–6. The Citco Subscriber was organized under the laws of either Curaçao or the Netherlands. See First Amended Complaint ¶¶ 35-37, 39, Adv. Pro. 19-01122, ECF No. 19.

RCBAG invested in two Fairfield feeder funds – Sentry and Sigma – in 1999 via the Citco Subscriber, which is alleged to have facilitated investments in the Fairfield Funds for numerous shareholders in this proceeding. Opp’n at 5-6. In connection with such investments, RCBAG opened an account at Citco Bank. Id. at 9. The Defendant also allegedly retained the Citco Subscriber as its agent by July 30, 1999, when the parties entered into a Brokerage and Custody Agreement (the “B&C Agreement”). See id. at 9–10; see also Margolin Decl. Ex. 33, ECF No.

1141. Further, RCBAG also appointed Citco Bank to provide “brokerage services.” Opp’n at 10; Margolin Decl. Ex. 33 at -004. These services included, among others, “the effecting of transactions of and/or relating to the purchase and sale of and dealing in Securities in the name of [Citco Subscriber and RCBAG] ... and any services ancillary thereto as set out in [the B&C Agreement].” Opp’n at 10; Margolin Decl. Ex. 33 at -002, -003. The B&C Agreement further empowered and obligated the Citco Subscriber, “when instructed to do so by [RCBAG] . . . to make settlement of transactions undertaken by or for [RCBAG]” and to “deliver[] or receiv[e] the Securities or other assets of [RCBAG] and mak[e] or receiv[e] payments for the account of [RCBAG].” Id.

From 1999 through 2008, RCBAG allegedly subscribed through the Citco Subscriber for 58,982.89 shares of Sentry and Sigma. See Opp’n at 3. RCBAG, through the Citco Subscriber, redeemed a total of $10,097,230.04 through 24 redemptions from Sentry and 17 redemptions from Sigma during the Investment Period. See Opp’n at 14. In addition to these redemption payments, RCBAG allegedly received fees from the clients on whose behalf it invested. See id. at 14, 24; see also Margolin Decl. Ex. 55 at 2. At the directions and instructions of the Citco Subscriber, as the alleged agent of RCBAG, “some . . . of the Redemption Payments were received at . . . designated United States-based bank accounts.” Am. Compl. ¶ 141.

Bernard Madoff was arrested for alleged violations of federal securities laws on December 11, 2008. Id. ¶ 193. The United States Attorney brought criminal charges against him, alleging that Madoff ran a Ponzi scheme. Id. On December 11, 2008, the Securities Exchange Commission filed an action in the Southern District of New York to halt the continued offerings of securities. Id. ¶ 194. In March 2009, Madoff pleaded guilty to criminal charges against him and confessed to operating a Ponzi scheme and fabricating statements and trade confirmations. Id. ¶¶ 195–96. Madoff was sentenced to 150 years in federal prison and died in April 2021. Id. ¶ 197.

The Amended Complaint alleges that the Citco Subscribers, including the purported agents of RCBAG, “had knowledge of the Madoff fraud, and therefore knowledge that the Net Asset Value was inflated” when the redemption payments were made. Id. ¶ 209. The Amended Complaint further asserts that, while receiving redemption payments, the Citco Subscribers “uncovered multiple additional indicia that Madoff was engaged in some form of fraud” but “turned a blind eye, [and] accept[ed] millions of dollars while willfully ignoring or, at the very least, recklessly disregarding the truth in clear violation of the law of the British Virgin Islands” Id. ¶¶ 8, 209. These indicia included verification that there was no “independent confirmation that BLMIS-held assets even existed,” Madoff’s failure to segregate duties, and BLMIS’s “employing an implausibly small auditing firm” rather than a reliable auditor. Id. ¶¶ 9, 209. In the face of red flags such as these, the Citco Subscribers and other Citco entities purportedly “quietly reduced [their] own exposure to BLMIS through the Funds, and significantly increasing its Custodian fees to offset the risk.” Id. ¶ 209.

B. THE PRIOR LITIGATION AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The Fairfield Funds were put into liquidation in the BVI in 2009. Am. Compl. ¶¶ 26–29, ECF No. 679. The BVI court issued orders appointing the foreign representatives, Kenneth Krys and Greig Mitchell, as liquidators of the Fairfield Funds. Id. ¶ 29. Pursuant to the appointment order of the BVI court,⁶ the “Foreign Representatives are responsible for all aspects of the Funds’ business, including protecting, realizing, and distributing assets for the Funds’ estates.” Id. ¶ 203.

⁶ The order was issued by the “Commercial Division of the Eastern Caribbean High Court of Justice.” See Am. Compl. at 1, ECF No. 679.

The Liquidators commenced actions in the BVI against a number of investors who had redeemed shares of the Fairfield Funds before the collapse of the scheme. Memorandum of Law in Support of Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Personal Jurisdiction (the “Memorandum of Law” or “Mem. L.”) at 4, ECF No. 746; Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. Citibank, N.A. London, 630 F. Supp. 3d 463, 475 (S.D.N.Y. 2022); see also Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. Theodoor GGC Amsterdam (In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd.), 596 B.R. 275, 284 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018) (“Fairfield II”).

The Liquidators filed petitions in this Court in June 2010 under Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code, seeking recognition of the BVI proceedings as foreign main proceedings. Am. Compl. ¶ 30. This Court granted that recognition on July 22, 2010. Id. All cases filed by the Plaintiffs were administratively consolidated before this Court in November 2010. See Consolidation Order, Adv. Pro. No. 10-03496, ECF No. 25.

The Plaintiffs asserted multiple causes of action in those consolidated adversary proceedings including, inter alia, mistaken payment and constructive trust.⁷ Compl. ¶¶ 63–86, ECF No. 8; see also 630 F. Supp. 3d at 479. In October 2011, this Court stayed the U.S. proceedings pending resolution of the BVI proceedings. See Am. Order Staying Redeemer Actions, Adv. Pro. No. 10-03496, ECF No. 418.; Fairfield I, 2018 WL 3756343, at *3 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Aug. 6, 2018).

In April 2014, the Privy Council affirmed dismissal of the Plaintiffs’ BVI law claims for restitution based on mistaken payment. Fairfield Sentry Ltd. (In Liquidation) v. Migani, [2014]

⁷ Other causes of action included unjust enrichment, money had and received, unfair preferences under BVI’s Insolvent Act § 245, undervalue transactions under the Insolvent Act § 246, breach of contract, and breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. Citibank, N.A. London, 630 F. Supp. 3d at 463, (S.D.N.Y. 2022).

UKPC 9 (“Migani”).⁸ The Privy Council held that the Plaintiffs’ claims for restitution in the BVI to recover redemption payments arising out of transactions governed by the Funds’ Articles of Association are governed by BVI law. Id. ¶ 17. The Plaintiffs’ claims to recover redemption payments thus depended on whether Sentry was bound to make those payments under the “true NAV per share, ascertained in the light of information which subsequently became available about Madoff’s frauds, or . . . the NAV per share which was determined by the Directors at the time of redemption.” Id. ¶ 19. The Privy Council concluded that the NAV had to be definitively determined at the time of the subscription or redemption. Id. ¶ 21. The redemption payments made under the NAV were thus not subject to restitution and the payee was not unjustly enriched by receiving funds, even if the amount was mistaken. Id. ¶¶ 18–19.

After Migani was issued, the Plaintiffs allegedly obtained evidence of bad faith of Citco, the Fairfield Fund’s administrator, when it issued redemption certificates. See Fairfield I, 2018 WL 3756343, at *5–6. Plaintiffs moved to amend the complaint, seeking to add allegations that Citco lacked good faith when it issued certificates for redemptions and was aware that the NAV was inflated at the time. See id. at *6. The Plaintiffs argued that the certificates would not be binding under the Funds’ Articles if they were not issued in good faith. Id.

In December 2018, this Court found that the Plaintiffs could allege bad faith on behalf of Citco in the U.S. proceedings and could seek recovery of the redemption payments only “where a Defendant knew the NAV was inflated at the time of redemption.” Fairfield II, 596 B.R. at 295. Of the common law claims, the Court allowed only the Plaintiffs’ claims for constructive trust against the so-called “Knowledge Defendants” to proceed:

⁸ Migani is available at https://jcpc.uk/uploads/jcpc_2012_0061_judgment_416722c30e.pdf and, without numbered paragraphs, on Westlaw at Fairfield Sentry Ltd. (In Liquidation) v. Migani, 2014 WL 1219748 (UKPC, Apr. 16, 2014).

The suggestion that the subsequent disclosure of facts indicating that the valuation was made in bad faith vitiates the contract and requires restitution lacks support. The only exception concerns the Knowledge Defendants that received redemption payments with the knowledge that the NAV was wrong. In those circumstances, the Liquidators may seek to impose a constructive trust.

Id. at 301. In December 2020, this Court ruled that § 546(e) bars Plaintiffs' BVI avoidance claims to recover unfair preferences and undervalue transactions. In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., 2020 WL 7345988, at *1 (Dec. 14, 2020) ("Fairfield III").

Following these decisions, only the constructive trust claims survived. Id.; In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., No. 10-13164 (SMB), 2021 WL 771677, at *1 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Feb. 23, 2021) ("Fairfield IV"), aff'd, 630 F. Supp. 3d 463 (2022). The Liquidators filed a further motion to amend the complaints against the Knowledge Defendants. Mot. to Amend, ECF No. 618; Mot. to Amend, Adv. Pro. No. 10-03496, ECF No. 3737. On August 5, 2021, this Court granted the motion to amend the complaint and lifted the stay of the redeemer actions. See Order Granting Mot. to Amend, ECF No. 676; see also Order Lifting Stay of Redeemer Actions, ECF No. 675.

C. THE PENDING MOTION

The Amended Complaint seeks the imposition of a constructive trust on the redemption payments received from the Fairfield Funds. See Am. Compl. ¶ 205, ECF No. 679. The Amended Complaint alleges that Defendant's purported agent, the Citco Subscriber, had knowledge of the fraud at BLMIS and therefore knowledge that the NAV was inflated. Id. ¶ 209. "By reason of their receipt of some or all of the Redemption Payments, the Beneficial Shareholders have been unjustly enriched to the detriment of the [Fairfield] Funds and other shareholders and creditors of the Funds."⁹ Id. ¶ 213.

⁹ As stated supra, footnote 2, the Amended Complaint alleges that several other defendants may have received redemption payments made to the Citco Subscribers. Am. Compl. ¶¶ 34–112, ECF No. 679.

Under BVI law, “lack of good faith, i.e. bad faith, includes wrongdoing by one who acts recklessly as well as one who acts with actual knowledge that he is acting wrongfully or willfully blinds himself to that fact.” Id. ¶ 206 (citing Fairfield II, 596 B.R. at 293). As this Court previously found:

To establish a constructive trust claim under English law, which would apply in the BVI, “the plaintiff must show, first, a disposal of his assets in breach of fiduciary duty; second, the beneficial receipt by the defendant of assets which are traceable as representing the assets of the plaintiff; and third, knowledge on the part of the defendant that the assets he received are traceable to a breach of fiduciary duty.”

Fairfield IV, 2021 WL 771677, at *3 (quoting El Ajou v. Dollar Land Holdings Ltd. [1994] 2 All E.R. 685, 700).

The Amended Complaint alleges that the defendants, including RC BAG as a beneficial shareholder of certain accounts, purposefully availed themselves of the laws of the United States and the State of New York by “investing money with the Funds, and knowing and intending that the Funds would invest substantially all of that money in New York-based BLMIS.” Am. Compl. ¶ 20, ECF No. 679.

The parties engaged in personal jurisdiction discovery between September 2021 and August 2022. See Scheduling Order, ECF No. 714; Second Am. Scheduling Order, ECF No. 997. Merits document and expert discovery is ongoing in this case. See Fourteenth Am. Scheduling Order, ECF No. 1321; see also Fifteenth Am. Scheduling Order, ECF No. 1336.

Defendant has moved to dismiss the Amended Complaint for lack of personal jurisdiction, arguing that the Amended Complaint has not sufficiently alleged minimum contacts with the forum to establish personal jurisdiction over Defendant and that exercising personal jurisdiction would be unreasonable. See Mem. L. at 12, 19, ECF No. 746.

The Liquidators filed an opposition to the Motion and submitted the declaration of Joshua S. Margolin and Sara K. Joyce in support of their opposition. See Opp’n, ECF No. 1140; Margolin Decl., ECF No. 1141; Declaration of Sara K. Joyce (“Joyce Decl.”), ECF No. 1142.¹⁰ The Liquidators argue that exercising jurisdiction over Defendant would be reasonable and that Defendant’s contacts with the United States, through its own actions and those of its purported agent, in knowingly and intentionally investing in Sentry and Sigma, using U.S. correspondent accounts to invest in and receive payments from the Funds, and conducting other business activities support personal jurisdiction. Opp’n at 1–4. Defendant filed a reply memorandum on August 10, 2023. Reply in Further Support of Defendant Rothschild and Co Bank AG’s Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Personal Jurisdiction (the “Reply”), ECF No. 1262. In considering the Defendant’s Motions, the Court has reviewed the above filings, all other relevant submissions, and the record as a whole.

IV. DISCUSSION

A. THE LAW OF PERSONAL JURISDICTION

To subject a defendant to personal jurisdiction in the United States, courts have generally recognized that due process requires that the defendant have sufficient minimum contacts with the forum in which the defendant is sued “such that the maintenance of the suit does not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.” See, e.g., Picard v. Bureau of Labor Ins. (In re BLMIS), 480 B.R. 501, 516 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012) (quoting Int’l Shoe Co. v. Washington, 326 U.S. 310, 316 (1945)). Further, “[w]hen jurisdiction is satisfied through Bankruptcy Rule

7004,¹¹ a bankruptcy court need not address its state's long-arm statute.” Picard v. Fairfield Greenwich Grp. (In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd.), 627 B.R. 546, 565 n.12 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2021) (citing In re Lehman Bros. Holdings Inc., 535 B.R. 608, 619 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2015)); see also Owens-Illinois, Inc. v. Rapid Am. Corp. (In re Celotex Corp.), 124 F.3d 619, 630 (4th Cir. 1997). Accordingly, in assessing personal jurisdiction for bankruptcy adversary proceedings, courts have previously inquired into “whether the defendant has minimum contacts with the United States, rather than with the forum state.” Fairfield Greenwich Grp., 627 B.R. at 565 n.13 (citing Lehman Bros. Holdings Inc., 535 B.R. at 619).

However, the United States Supreme Court’s recent ruling in Fuld, et al. v. Palestine Liberation Organization, et al., 606 U.S. ___, 145 S. Ct. 2090, 2025 WL 1716140 (June 20, 2025) altered the personal jurisdictional analysis, at least in certain cases. In Fuld, the Supreme Court held that, for the purposes of determining specific personal jurisdiction:

Because the State and Federal Governments occupy categorically different sovereign spheres, we decline to import the Fourteenth Amendment minimum contacts standard into the Fifth Amendment. Rather, the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment necessarily permits a more flexible jurisdictional inquiry commensurate with the Federal Government's broader sovereign authority.

Id. at *8. The Supreme Court’s ruling in Fuld essentially separated the analysis for “due process” under the Fourteenth and Fifth Amendments. See id. Further, the Supreme Court also refrained from promulgating a new standard that would “delineate the outer bounds of the Federal Government’s power....” Id. at *9. This Court entered an Order Regarding Supplemental Submissions on June 24, 2025, and directed the parties to submit supplemental briefing on the impact of the Supreme Court’s ruling in Fuld on the pending Motion. See Order Regarding ¹¹ “The summons and complaint and all other process except a subpoena may be served anywhere in the United States.” Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7004(d). A bankruptcy court may exercise personal jurisdiction over a defendant served under Rule 7004(d) “[i]f the exercise of jurisdiction is consistent with the Constitution and the laws of the United States.” Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7004(f).

Supplemental Submissions, ECF No. 1389. The parties filed their supplemental letter briefs on June 27, 2025. See Plaintiffs’ Letter re: Fuld v. Palestine Liberation Organization (the “Plaintiffs’ Letter”), ECF No. 1391; Defendants’ Joint Letter re: Fuld v. Palestine Liberation Organization (the “Defendant’s Letter”), ECF No. 1392.

In the Plaintiffs’ Letter, the Liquidators argue that the Supreme Court’s ruling in Fuld “offered [] an alternate basis for satisfying [specific personal jurisdiction under] the Fifth Amendment.” Plaintiffs’ Letter at 3. Specifically, the Liquidators argue that because “‘minimum contacts’ ... is not required to satisfy Fifth Amendment due process standards for personal jurisdiction [post-Fuld,]” the Fifth Amendment’s due process standard “could be satisfied under a mere ‘reasonable’ showing.” Id. at 2 (emphasis in original, quoting Fuld, 2025 WL1716140, at 12–13). RCBAG disagrees with the Liquidators’ interpretation of Fuld, and argues in the Defendant’s Letter that “Fuld has no impact on the pending [Motion]” because, inter alia, “[u]nlike Fuld, this case does not involve a specific statutory conferral of jurisdiction....” Defendant’s Letter at 1, 3.

As evidenced by the parties’ arguments, the effect of the Supreme Court’s ruling in Fuld in cases that do not involve a specific statutory conferral of personal jurisdiction will be developed over time. Here, having considered the Supreme Court’s reasoning in Fuld, and the parties’ positions on this issue, the Court will begin its analysis by examining, as it has done in prior opinions, the Defendant’s minimum contacts, as any defendants that have sufficient minimum contacts with the forum would also satisfy the more flexible personal jurisdictional standards set forth in Fuld.

An analysis of minimum contacts “focuses on the relationship among the defendant, the forum, and the litigation,” a relationship that “must arise out of contacts that the defendant himself creates with the forum State.” Walden v. Fiore, 571 U.S. 277, 284 (2014) (quotations omitted).

There are three conditions necessary for the Court to exercise specific jurisdiction¹² over the non-resident defendant:

First, the defendant must have purposefully availed itself of the privilege of conducting activities within the forum State or have purposefully directed its conduct into the forum State. Second, the plaintiff's claim must arise out of or relate to the defendant's forum conduct. Finally, the exercise of jurisdiction must be reasonable under the circumstances.

U.S. Bank Nat'l Ass'n v. Bank of Am. N.A., 916 F.3d 143, 150 (2d Cir. 2019) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted).

To survive a motion to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure Rule 12(b)(2), the Plaintiffs “must make a prima facie showing that jurisdiction exists.” *SPV Osus Ltd. v. Following discovery, “the plaintiff's prima facie showing, necessary to defeat a jurisdiction testing motion, must include an averment of facts that, if credited by the trier, would suffice to establish jurisdiction over the defendant.” Ball, 902 F.2d ¹² Courts recognize “two types of personal jurisdiction: general and specific jurisdiction. A state court may exercise general jurisdiction only when a defendant is ‘essentially at home’ in the State.” Ford Motor Co. v. Montana Eighth Jud. Dist. Ct., 592 U.S. 351, 352, 141 S. Ct. 1017, 1019, 209 L. Ed. 2d 225 (2021) (quoting Goodyear Dunlop Tires Operations, S. A v. Brown, 564 U.S. 915, 919, 131 S. Ct. 2846, 180 L. Ed. 2d 796 (2011)). The Plaintiffs do not allege that the Court has general jurisdiction over Defendant. See Reply at 4, ECF No. 1262 (arguing that the Plaintiffs fail to “establish[] [RCBAG’s] sufficient minimum contacts for specific personal jurisdiction.”); Opp’n at 3, ECF No. 1140 (arguing that the Court’s specific jurisdiction is founded on Defendant’s contacts with the forum that relate to the claims at issue).

B. ANALYSIS OF PURPOSEFUL AVAILMENT

“[M]inimum contacts necessary to support [specific] jurisdiction exist where the defendant purposefully availed itself of the privilege of doing business in the forum and could foresee being haled into court there.” Charles Schwab Corp. v. Bank of Am. Corp., 883 F.3d 68, 82 (2d Cir. 2018) (quoting Licci ex rel. Licci v. Lebanese Canadian Bank, SAL, 732 F.3d 161, 170 (2d Cir. 2013) (“Licci IV”). For specific personal jurisdiction, “[c]ourts typically require that the plaintiff show some sort of causal relationship between a defendant’s U.S. contacts and the episode in suit,’ and the plaintiff’s claim must in some way ‘arise from the defendant’s purposeful contacts with the forum.’” Charles Schwab Corp., 883 F.3d at 84 (quoting Waldman v. Palestine Liberation Org., 835 F.3d 317, 341, 343 (2d Cir. 2016)). “Although a defendant’s contacts with the forum state may be ‘intertwined with [its] transactions or interactions with the plaintiff or other parties . . . [,] a defendant’s relationship with a . . . third party, standing alone, is an insufficient basis for jurisdiction.’” U.S. Bank Nat’l Ass’n, 916 F.3d at 150 (quoting Walden, 571 U.S. at 134) (alteration in original). “It is insufficient to rely on a defendant’s random, fortuitous, or attenuated contacts or on the unilateral activity of a plaintiff with the forum to establish specific jurisdiction.”

RCBAG asserts that the Liquidators “affirmatively represented to the District Court that all Redemption Payments to Citco Brokerage Customers (including RCBAG) occurred outside the United States” Mem. L. at 15–16, ECF No. 746. Plaintiffs argued before the District Court that “[e]very relevant component of the [redemption] transactions at issue here occurred outside the territorial jurisdiction of the United States.” Id. at 3 (emphasis in original); see also Plaintiffs-Appellants’ Opening Brief for Second-Round Appeal at 24, Fairfield Sentry Ltd. v. Citibank NA London, No. 19-cv-3911 (S.D.N.Y. July 21, 2021), ECF No. 440 (the “Opening Brief”). The Plaintiffs’ Opening Brief concerned the extraterritorial application of the § 546(e)¹³ safe harbor. See Opening Brief at 24 (arguing that the “Bankruptcy Court erred in holding that Section 546(e)’s safe harbor could apply extraterritorially to shield from avoidance settled securities transactions that occurred exclusively outside the United States.”).

As another bankruptcy court in this district has stated, the “tests for personal jurisdiction and extraterritoriality are not the same.” Spizz v. Goldfarb Seligman & Co. (In re Ampal-Am. Israel Corp.), 562 B.R. 601, 613 n.14 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2017). In Spizz, the bankruptcy court was able to simultaneously find that the “[t]ransfer was not domestic, and hence, cannot be avoided” under § 547, while also clarifying that by “attend[ing] meetings in New York around the time of, and apparently in conjunction with, the commencement of the chapter 11 case,” a defendant may be “subject to specific personal jurisdiction.” Id. at 613–14.

¹³ Section 546(e) of the Bankruptcy Code prohibits a trustee from avoiding a transfer that is a margin payment or settlement payment “made by or to (or for the benefit of) a commodity broker, forward contract merchant, stockbroker, financial institution, financial participant, or securities clearing agency, or that is a transfer made by or to (or for the benefit of) a commodity broker, forward contract merchant, stockbroker, financial institution, financial participant, or securities clearing agency, in connection with a securities contract. . . .” 11 U.S.C. § 546(e). “By its terms, the safe harbor is a defense to the avoidance of the initial transfer.” Picard v. BNP Paribas S.A. (In re BLMIS), 594 B.R. 167, 197 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018) (emphasis in original).

By arguing in the District Court that the redemption transfers were foreign for purposes of extraterritoriality, Plaintiffs did not preclude arguing that there were contacts with the forum for purposes of personal jurisdiction. To determine whether a transaction is foreign or domestic for analyzing extraterritoriality issues for federal statutes, courts look at whether the “conduct relevant to the statute's focus occurred in the United States.” RJR Nabisco, Inc. v. European Cmty., 579 U.S. 325, 326, 136 S. Ct. 2090, 2094, 195 L. Ed. 2d 476 (2016). To determine whether personal jurisdiction is appropriate, however, courts analyze a defendant’s contacts with the forum “under a totality of the circumstances test.” Licci IV, 732 F.3d at 170 (citing Best Van Lines, Inc. v. Walker, 490 F.3d 239, 242 (2d Cir. 2007)).

The Plaintiffs allege that Citco acted as an agent of the Defendant with respect to its investments with the Fairfield Funds. See Opp’n at 2, ECF No. 1140. Many of the jurisdictional contacts that the Plaintiffs refer to rely on this agency relationship. Id. at 2–4. The Defendant argues that the Plaintiffs’ attempt to deem the Citco Subscribers as RCBAG’s agent “ignore[s] the law of the case and the actual contacts that arose from [RCBAG]’s limited Custody Agreement with the Citco Subscribers.” Reply at 9, ECF No. 1262. The Court has already found that “the Funds were customers of Citco Bank who acted as their agents in connection with the securities contracts pursuant to which the redemption payments were made” Fairfield III, 2020 WL 7345988, at *7. RCBAG contends that the “evidence shows that [RCBAG]’s relationship with the Citco Subscribers was exclusively between two foreign entities and governed by foreign law,” and that “[RCBAG] entered into a custody agreement with the Citco Subscribers for the limited purpose of facilitating client-directed investments in certain investment funds.” Reply at 9–10.

RCBAG further states that “[n]othing in that B&C Agreement suggests [RCBAG] availed itself of the protections of U.S. law.” Id. at 10. In addition, RCBAG claims that asserting jurisdiction over RCBAG solely because the funds at issue “momentarily transited through the U.S. banking system would effectively establish general jurisdiction in the United States for any global transaction conducted in U.S. dollars – a proposition which courts have consistently rejected.” Id. at 11–12. Before examining whether the allegations support jurisdiction, the Court will first consider whether the Citco Subscriber’s actions should be imputed to RCBAG.

1. Whether the Citco Subscriber Acted as an Agent of RCBAG for Purposes of Personal Jurisdiction

The Court will first address the Defendant’s argument that the Citco Subscriber was not an agent of RCBAG because it was an agent of the Fairfield Funds. The Defendant cited the Court’s ruling in Fairfield III, 2020 WL 7345988 at *7, that “the Funds were customers of Citco Bank[,]” and that Citco Bank “acted as their agents in connection with the securities contracts [related to] the redemption payments ...” as support for this argument. See Reply at 9, ECF No. 1262 (“Plaintiffs’ attempt to deem the Citco Subscriber as [RCBAG]’s agent is contrary to this Court’s prior rulings.”). Although the Plaintiffs did not respond to this argument, the Court will address this issue here.

RCBAG apparently assumes that a party cannot be agents of multiple parties. Under this argument, RCBAG asserts that, because the Court had found that the Citco Subscriber was the Funds’ agent in facilitating the redemption payments, the Citco Subscriber could not simultaneously be an agent of other parties in the same transactions. The Court disagrees. Indeed, the Court has already rejected this argument in prior opinions denying other defendants’ motions to dismiss this adversary proceeding. See Fairfield Sentry Ltd. (In Liquidation), et al. v. Credit Suisse AG, et al. (In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd.), 665 B.R. 1, 16–17 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2024); see also Fairfield Sentry Ltd. (In Liquidation), et al. v. SIX SIS Ltd., et al. (In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd.), 2025 WL 946971, at *10 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Mar. 28, 2025). Many courts have long recognized that, where two principals to the same transaction do not have conflicting interests, a third-party may serve as an agent for both principals. See, e.g., 99 Commercial Street, Inc. v. Goldberg, 811 F.Supp. 900 (S.D.N.Y. 1993) (holding that an escrow agent can act as agent to both parties); see also Knudson v. Weeks, 394 F.Supp. 963 (W.D. Okla. 1975) (holding that an agent may act as an agent for both parties to the same transaction where the interest of two principals are not conflicting). Accordingly, the Court’s holding in Fairfield III establishing the agency relationship between the Funds and the Citco Subscriber does not necessarily bar the Plaintiffs’ allegation the Citco Subscriber served as RC BAG’s agent with respect to the redemption payments.

Courts have also recognized that a defendant “can purposefully avail itself of a forum by directing its agents . . . to take action there.” Daimler AG v. Bauman, 571 U.S. 117, 135 n.13 (2014). In the absence of a formal agency relationship, the Court may impute an agent’s conduct within or aimed at the forum to the principal based on “the realities of the relationship in question rather than the formalities of agency law.” CutCo Indus., Inc. v. Naughton, 806 F.2d 361, 366 (2d Cir. 1986). Even a defendant that “indirectly transacts financial instruments in a forum may have purposefully availed itself of the forum if the transactions were effected by the defendant’s agent.” In re Eur. Gov’t Bonds Antitrust Litig., 2020 WL 4273811, at *6 (S.D.N.Y. July 23, 2020).

The Court must determine whether the alleged activities of the Citco Subscriber should, for the purposes of establishing specific personal jurisdiction in this Court, be imputed to RC BAG. “To establish an agency relationship for jurisdictional purposes, plaintiffs must show that the alleged agent acted in [the forum] for the benefit of, with the knowledge and consent of, and under some control by, the nonresident principal.” Hau Yin To v. HSBC Holdings, PLC, 700 F. App’x 66, 68 (2d Cir. 2017) (citing Grove Press, Inc. v. Angleton, 649 F.2d 121, 122 (2d Cir. 2018)). The Plaintiffs argue that the Citco Subscriber's conduct satisfies all three prongs of this test, because "(1) the Citco Subscriber's conduct in investing in the Funds was taken on behalf and for the benefit of [RCBAG]; (2) the Citco Subscriber acted at the direction and under the control of [RCBAG]; and (3) the Citco Subscriber acted pursuant to [RCBAG]'s knowledge and consent." See Opp'n at 18, ECF No. 1140 (citing In re Eur. Gov't Bonds Antitrust Litig., 2020 WL 4273811, at *6).

The Second Circuit has explained that a principal might not be charged with the acts of an agent when that agent, "though ostensibly acting in the business of the principal, is really committing a fraud for his own benefit, he is acting outside the scope of his agency, and it would therefore be most unjust to charge the principal with knowledge of it." Wight v. BankAmerica Corp., 219 F.3d 79, 87 (2d Cir. 2000) (quoting Munroe v. Harriman, 85 F.2d 493, 495 (2d Cir. 1936)). This exception is narrow in that the Court may still charge the principal with "the acts and knowledge of an agent as long as the agent in some respect served the principal or, stated differently, unless the agent 'totally abandoned' the principal's interests and 'acted entirely for his own or another's purpose.'" In re Parmalat Sec. Litig., 684 F. Supp. 2d 453, 472 (S.D.N.Y. 2020) (finding that although the agent committed fraud "during his term of employment . . . he did it solely to benefit himself" and that the benefit to his employer was "immaterial because [employer] was the victim of [the agent]'s fraud.").

a. Whether the Citco Subscriber's Conduct was Performed on Behalf and for the Benefit of RCBAG

In order to establish an agency relationship for purposes of personal jurisdiction, "the plaintiff must show that the alleged agent acts 'for the benefit of' . . . the non-resident principal . . ." In re Welspun Litig., No. 16 CV 6792 (VB), 2019 WL 2174089, at *7 (S.D.N.Y. May 20, 2019) (quoting GEM Advisors, Inc. v. Corporacion Sidenor, S.A., 667 F. Supp. 2d 308, 318 (S.D.N.Y. 2009)); see also CutCo, 806 F.2d at 366. The Plaintiffs argue that the “on behalf/benefit of prong is satisfied when an agent’s activities open the principal to financial gain.” Opp’n at 19, ECF No. 1140 (citing In re Sumitomo Copper Litig., 120 F. Supp. 2d at 336 (finding defendants benefited from agent’s trading activities that could result in gain if financially successful); GEM Advisors, Inc., S.A., 667 F. Supp. 2d at 319 (finding benefit where defendant “stood to benefit” from the alleged agent’s “actions and contracts by receiving some or all of the sale price”)).

RCBAG subscribed for shares in the Fairfield Funds through the Citco Subscriber to profit by indirectly investing in BLMIS. See Opp’n at 19–20. Through the activities of its agent, the Citco Subscriber, RCBAG could obtain financial gain. Id. The Plaintiffs point to a private placement memorandum of the Fairfield Funds that explains that the Fairfield Funds would seek to “obtain capital appreciation of its assets principally through the utilization of ...‘split strike conversion,’” which would be implemented by BLMIS. Id. at 7–8 (quoting Margolin Decl. Ex. 25 at -564, ECF No. 1141). RCBAG was the beneficial owner of the shares of Sentry and Sigma that the Citco Subscriber subscribed to pursuant to RCBAG’s orders. Id. at 19. It logically follows that the Citco Subscriber’s activity in relation to investing in the Funds opened RCBAG, as principal, to financial gain. Therefore, the Plaintiffs’ allegations and supporting documents sufficiently demonstrate that the Citco Subscriber — in implementing the subscription and redemption decisions — acted on behalf of and for the benefit of RCBAG in the forum.

b. Whether RCBAG Both Exercised Control Over and Was Aware of and Consented to the Citco Subscriber’s Activities

To assert an agency relationship, the principal must have exercised “some control” over the purported agent. Scholastic, Inc. v. Stouffer, 2000 WL 1154252, at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 14, 2000). For the purposes of personal jurisdiction analysis, this control prong is satisfied when the principal has “[an] ability . . . to influence [the agent’s] acts or decisions by virtue of the parties’ respective roles.” Id. (citing Cutco, 806 F.2d at 366). Control means the “actual exercise of control.” Hau Yin To, 700 F. App’x at 68. However, absolute control by the principal is not necessary. Maersk, Inc. v. Neewra, Inc., 554 F. Supp. 2d 424, 442 (S.D.N.Y. 2008). The knowledge and consent prong is satisfied when the principal is apprised of the agent’s activities. See Struna v. Leonardi, 626 F. Supp. 3d 657, 664 (S.D.N.Y. 2022). Because certain of the same facts in this case bear on “knowledge and consent” and “control,” the two questions may be considered simultaneously. See Karabu Corp. v. Gitner, 16 F. Supp. 2d 319, 326 n.6 (S.D.N.Y. 1998) (“The same considerations which lead this Court to conclude that the plaintiffs have not satisfied the ‘control’ prong of Kreutter, indicate that plaintiffs also have not satisfied the ‘knowledge’ and ‘consent’ prongs of the agency test.”); Branham v. ISI Alarms, Inc., No. 12-CV-1012 (ARR) (MDG), 2013 WL 4710588, at *7 (E.D.N.Y. Aug. 30, 2013).

Knowledge and consent of the principal have been found: (i) where an agent forwarded information to the principal (Sec. Ins. Co. of Hartford v. ITA Textiles Corp., 2000 WL 1576879, at *2–4 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 23, 2000)); (ii) where the complaint asserts that the principal received a policy procured by its agent with a “New York forum selection clause that [the principal] knew or should have known was included” (Pilkington N. Am., Inc. v. Mitsui Sumitomo Ins. Co. of Am., 2021 WL 2000371, at *9 (S.D.N.Y. May 19, 2021)); and (iii) where the principal is alleged to have done nothing after having received a cease-and-desist letter aside from forwarding the letter to counsel. Branham, 2013 WL 4710588, at *7.

The Liquidators argue that RCBAG exercised significant control over the Citco Subscriber’s subscription and redemption-related activities and had knowledge of and consented to those activities, such that RCBAG was the principal with respect to those transactions and exercised the requisite control over the Citco Subscriber as its agent. Opp’n at 20, ECF No. 1140; See Margolin Decl. Ex. 33, ECF No. 1141 (B&C Agreement). RCBAG entered into the B&C Agreement with the Citco Subscriber in July 1999, pursuant to which RCBAG appointed the Citco Subscriber to act as custodian for its investments. Id. at 21; see Margolin Decl. Ex. 33. Under this agreement, the Citco Subscriber could execute subscriptions and redemptions only upon receipt of specific instructions from RCBAG. Opp’n at 20. The B&C Agreement also apparently required the Citco Subscriber to issue preliminary and final order confirmations to RCBAG and to issue a “pre-advice” statement for each subscription or redemption. See Margolin Decl. Ex. 33 at -014, -015 (B&C Agreement); see, e.g., id. Ex. 34 at -049 (Sentry Order Confirmation). Based on the foregoing and the lack of allegations that RCBAG objected to these actions or instructed the Citco Subscriber to act differently, the Plaintiffs have sufficiently alleged RCBAG’s consent to the Citco Subscriber’s actions. Having found that it is appropriate to consider the conduct of the Citco Subscriber along with the allegations of RCBAG’s direct actions, the Court will examine the sufficiency of the alleged contacts.

2. Defendant’s Use of Correspondent Accounts

The Plaintiffs point to RCBAG’s choice of correspondent accounts, through its agent, as sufficient to establish minimum contacts with the United States. See Opp’n at 29–34, ECF No. 1140. “Correspondent accounts are accounts in domestic banks held in the name of foreign financial institutions” that are used “to effect dollar transactions.” Licci ex rel. Licci v. Lebanese Canadian Bank, SAL, 673 F.3d 50, 56 n.3 (2d Cir. 2012) (quoting Sigmoil Res., N.V. v. Pan Ocean Oil Corp. (Nigeria), 234 A.D.2d 103, 104, 650 N.Y.S.2d 726, 727 (1st Dept 1996)). Plaintiffs allege that RCBAG, through the Citco Subscriber, its purported agent, deliberately selected and used U.S. correspondent accounts through the Citco Subscriber’s U.S. correspondent account at HSBC Bank USA, N.A. (“HBUS”) to effectuate the redemption payments that form the harms for which Plaintiffs seek redress.¹⁴ Opp’n at 30.

Here, the Plaintiffs have shown that the Defendant was able to use either a foreign-based or a U.S.-based correspondent bank account for its redemption requests and, through its alleged agent, chose the latter. See Margolin Decl. Ex. 9 at -988, ECF No. 1141 (Sentry Confirmation of Order Received to redeem 50 shares of Sentry at HSBC Bank USA in New York); see also Joyce Decl. at 5–9, ECF No. 1107.; id. at 11 (“[S]ubscription agreements for Fairfield Sentry . . . do not contain any requirement that the subscriber utilize a U.S. account to send subscription payments or receive redemption payments.”); id. at 12 (“Neither the fact that Fairfield Sentry was a U.S.-dollar denominated fund, nor the fact that the subscription agreement instructed subscribers to wire their subscription payments to Sentry’s U.S. account, nor the fact that Sentry made redemption payments from its own U.S. account would have prevented a subscriber from making subscription payments from and directing redemption payments to a U.S. dollar account located outside the U.S.”); id. at 12–13 (“The U.S. dollar was in wide circulation outside the U.S. during the Relevant Period, and many other payment options were widely available and easily accessible during the Relevant Period. To the extent that a foreign subscriber chose a U.S.-based correspondent account to effectuate their payments, it was generally for reasons of its own convenience or financial benefit.”).

RCBAG next argues that any use of correspondent accounts that may have occurred was incidental and insufficiently related to the harm for which the plaintiffs seek redress. See Reply at 11–12, ECF No. 1262. (“[The Sentry redemption payments] momentarily transited through the Citco Subscriber’s U.S. correspondent bank account... [and] courts uniformly reject the exercise of personal jurisdiction based on such a ‘random, fortuitous, or attenuated contact’[.]”) (quoting U.S. Bank Nat’l Ass’n, 916 F.3d at 150.). The Defendant cites the Second Circuit’s opinion in Hau Yin To, 700 F. App’x 66, 66–67 (2d Cir. 2017) in support of this argument. In Hau Yin To, the Second Circuit affirmed an earlier ruling by the District Court, which had held that the defendants’ passive use of a U.S.-based correspondent account was not a sufficient basis to confer personal jurisdiction over those defendants. Id. at 69; see also Hau Yin To v. HSBC Holding, PLC, 2017 WL 816136 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Mar. 2017). Contrary to the RCBAG’s argument, the Second Circuit’s opinion in Hau Yin To does not support the Defendant’s assertion here. As the District Court noted in its opinion in Hau Yin To, the “wiring of funds through New York” by certain foreign defendants — fund custodians that facilitated the fund transfers between BLMIS and its feeder funds — was “passive” and “incidental” because “the passage of money through the U.S. bank accounts ...[was] not specifically directed by [the defendants] to facilitate the [BLMIS] Ponzi scheme.” See Hau Yin To, 2017 WL 816136 at *7, n. 6.

Here, unlike the plaintiffs in Hau Yin To, the Liquidators do not allege that the Defendant, through its alleged agents, used U.S.-based correspondent accounts to facilitate the BLMIS Ponzi scheme. Instead, the Liquidators are seeking the imposition of a constructive trust related to numerous parties — including the Defendant — because the parties, through their alleged agents, requested and received redemption payments while knowing that the NAV was inflated. See Am. Comp. ¶¶ 205–216, ECF No. 679. Therefore, the Defendant’s use of a U.S.-based correspondent account through its alleged agent for receiving redemption payments is an integral part of the Liquidators' claim. Moreover, the Plaintiffs have shown that the Defendant had the option to use a foreign correspondent account for its redemption requests, but instead used the U.S.-based correspondent account through its alleged agent. See Margolin Decl. Exs. 3–4, 9–11, 53–54 (Sentry Redemption Records); see also Joyce Decl. at 5–9, 11–13.

The Plaintiffs allege that Defendant received all 24 redemption payments from Sentry that the Citco Subscriber requested to be sent to a correspondent account at HBUS. See Opp'n at 14. The Plaintiffs also support their allegations with certain redemption requests and order confirmations that correspond to certain redemption payments. See Margolin Decl. Exs. 3, 9–11, 53–54. (Sentry Redemption Records).

Indeed, this was no passive endeavor; the Plaintiffs allege that Defendant “and the Citco Subscriber repeatedly utilized U.S. correspondent accounts ... when investing in and receiving redemption payments from Sentry.” Opp'n at 32. Specifically, Defendant used U.S.-based correspondent accounts on twenty-six occasions, involving over $6,115,999.68 in wire transfers spanning over four years. Opp'n at 33; see also Margolin Decl. Exs. 1, 3, 7, 9–11, 53–54 (Sentry Transaction Records). The Defendant actively selected the correspondent account as a means of moving redemption funds through New York. See Joyce Decl. at 8 (listing multiple “correspondent banks offer[ing] U.S. dollar correspondent accounts located outside of the U.S.” during the relevant period). Defendant was free to designate an account of its choice, inside the United States or outside, to effectuate transfers and chose one based in the U.S. to receive redemption payments. See id. at 9–11 (“Factors Influencing Choice of Correspondent Account”).

RCBAG, through its agent, accomplished the conduct at the heart of the Liquidators' claims regarding payments from Sentry through its use of the U.S.-based correspondent accounts.

The Second Circuit has found the selection and repeated use of in-forum correspondent accounts to perpetrate the alleged violations supports a finding of sufficient minimum contacts. Licci IV, 732 F.3d at 171; id. at 168 (quoting Licci v. Lebanese Canadian Bank, 20 N.Y.3d 327, 339, 984 N.E.2d 893, 900 (N.Y. 2012) (“[A] foreign bank’s repeated use of a correspondent account in New York on behalf of a client . . . show purposeful availment of New York’s dependable and transparent banking system, the dollar as a stable and fungible currency, and the predictable jurisdictional and commercial law of New York and the United States.”); see also Spetner v. Palestine Investment Bank, 70 F.4th 632, 640 (“[A] defendant foreign bank’s ‘repeated use of a correspondent account in New York on behalf of a client . . . can constitute transacting business for purposes of § 302(a)(1), even if the defendant has no other contacts with the forum.’”).¹⁵ A course of dealing can be established through as little as “14 currency exchange transactions between” two foreign entities made through a New York bank. Rushaid v. Pictet & Cie, 28 N.Y.3d 316, 325 (2016).

The Liquidators have provided support for the allegation that the Citco Subscriber, acting as agent of the Defendant, chose to use a correspondent account in New York to receive payments from Sentry. See Opp’n at 13 (“[T]he Citco Subscriber instructed Sentry to wire the redemption payments to the Citco Subscriber’s U.S. correspondent account at HBUS.”). While foreign options existed, the redemption forms show that Defendant selected and used a U.S.-based correspondent bank to receive payments from Sentry. RCBAG’s repeated receipt of millions of dollars of redemption payments for its investments in Sentry through U.S. correspondent accounts demonstrates its purposeful availment of the banking system of New York and the United States.

¹⁵ Section 302(a)(1), New York’s long-arm statute, “authorizes personal jurisdiction over a foreign defendant for causes of action that arise out of ‘transact[ing] any business within the state,’ whether in person or through an agent.” 70 F.4th at 640 (quoting C.P.L.R. § 302(a)(1)).

3. Defendant's Business Contacts with the Forum

The Liquidators assert that RCBAG “intentionally invested in BLMIS feeder funds Sentry and Sigma knowing that the Funds were designed to subsequently invest that money in New York-based BLMIS. [RCBAG] is subject to this Court’s jurisdiction with respect to its Sentry and Sigma redemptions as a result of that conduct.” Opp’n at 22, ECF No. 1140. Defendant describes the allegations concerning RCBAG’s subscription payments into the Fairfield Funds for the purpose of investing in BLMIS as the unilateral activity of a third-party, which Defendant argues is not appropriate to consider under Helicopteros Nacionales de Colombia, S.A. v. Hall, 466 U.S. 408, 417 (1984). Mem. L. at 16–17, ECF No. 746; see also Reply at 8–9, ECF No. 1262 (“[T]he law in the Second Circuit is clear that ‘foreign banks . . . acting entirely abroad and with only sporadic or indirect contacts’ with the [United States] are not subject to personal jurisdiction unless the injury was ‘proximately caused by those contacts.’”) (citation omitted).

In Helicopteros, the Supreme Court found that “mere purchases, even if occurring at regular intervals, are not enough to warrant a State’s assertion of in personam jurisdiction over a nonresident corporation in a cause of action not related to those purchase transactions.” Helicopteros, 466 U.S. at 418. The Supreme Court found that “one trip” to the forum “for the purpose of negotiating the transportation-services contract . . . cannot be described or regarded as a contact of a ‘continuous and systematic’ nature” Id. at 416. The Liquidators, however, have described more substantial contacts here.

First, the Liquidators point to the documents given to RCBAG by the Fairfield Funds’ U.S.-based manager, the Fairfield Greenwich Group (“FGG”), after RCBAG communicated about the possibility of subscribing in the Fairfield Funds. See Opp’n at 2-3, 24–26. Documents that RCBAG received — including certain private placement memoranda of the Funds — made clear that “subscribing in the Fund[s] amounted to an indirect investment in BLMIS in New York.” Id.

at 25; see also Margolin Decl. Ex. 25 at -564 (July 2003 Sentry Private Placement Memorandum noting that “[t]he Fund seeks to obtain capital appreciation of its assets principally through the utilization of a nontraditional options trading strategy described as ‘split strike conversion’, to which the Fund allocates the predominant portion of its assets.”); Margolin Decl. Ex. 25 at -571 (“Currently [BLMIS] has approximately 95% of the Fund’s assets under custody.”); Id. Ex. 26 at -338 (October 1999 Sigma Information Memorandum describing the “Business Objective of the Company” as “to achieve capital appreciation of its assets by purchasing shares in [Sentry]... which invests its assets through an account at [BLMIS], a registered broker-dealer in New York....”). These documents show that Defendant was aware at the time that its investments in the Fairfield Funds were effectively investments in BLMIS in New York. RCBAG, through its agent, the Citco Subscriber, executed subscriptions into Sentry with this knowledge. See id. Ex. 25 (July 2003 Sentry Private Placement Memorandum); id. Ex. 26 (October 1999 Sigma Information Memorandum); see also id. Exs. 36–42 (Executed Sentry and Sigma Short Form Subscription Agreements).

In August 2018, this Court held that it does not have personal jurisdiction over certain defendants due to subscription agreements that provided for consent to jurisdiction in New York for claims “with respect to [the Subscription] Agreement and the Fund.” Fairfield I, 2018 WL 3756343, at *11. The Liquidators here rely on the subscription agreements and private placement memoranda not to show consent, but to show that when Defendant invested in Sentry it did so knowing that it would avail itself of the benefits and protections of New York. Opp’n at 22–29. The subscription agreements, signed by RCBAG’s agent, in this way, support the Plaintiffs’ showing of contacts with the forum.

The Plaintiffs have supplied further support for the allegations of contacts. Exhibits indicate that RCBAG conducted extensive due diligence prior to and during the subscription period, which information informed it of the relationship between the Fairfield Funds and BLMIS at the time it instructed the Citco Subscriber to invest in the Funds during the relevant period. See Opp’n at 8-9; see also Margolin Decl. Ex. 28 (March 2004 emails between an FGG employee with a “fgg.us” email address and a RCBAG employee addressing the role of BLMIS in Sentry’s investments); id. Ex. 22 at -707 (email describing RCBAG’s concerns about Sentry and Madoff’s involvement following a 2002 due diligence meeting with FGG in the U.S.); id. Ex. 30 at -381 (due diligence questionnaire describing FGG’s relationship with BLMIS beginning in 1989 and stating that Fairfield Sentry was created to serve “as a single-strategy fund employing the split-strike conversion strategy”); id. Ex. 29 (RCBAG’s email correspondence with FGG, in which RCBAG raised numerous due diligence questions regarding Sentry and BLMIS’s role in the Fund, and eventually stated that “[RCBAG] cannot get comfortable regarding the set-up of [Sentry] and the overall size of the assets being managed in this strategy.”). RCBAG apparently conducted enough diligence to create reports detailing its concerns — all stemming from Madoff’s involvement — about investing further in both Sentry and Sigma (though it continued to do so). See id. Ex. 31 at -370, -371; id. Ex. 32 at -842–44.

Therefore, the Court finds that the allegations and documentation provided by the Plaintiffs through jurisdictional discovery, taken together, sufficiently demonstrate facts supporting continuous and systemic contacts with the forum.

4. Whether the Defendant’s Contacts are Otherwise Appropriate to Support the Court’s Exercise of Personal Jurisdiction

The Court will address RCBAG’s remaining arguments that the alleged contacts are not jurisdictionally relevant under Supreme Court precedent. Mem. L. at 16–18, ECF No. 746.

Defendant argues that the Plaintiff's allegation that Citco Brokerage Customers knew funds would be commingled and partially invested in BLMIS accounts in New York is irrelevant to jurisdiction over RCBAG. Id. at 18. Defendant further argues that because the Supreme Court held in Helicopteros that "the unilateral activity of another party or a third person is not an appropriate consideration when determining whether a defendant has sufficient contacts with a forum State[.]" this Court should reject the Plaintiffs' attempt to "satisfy the defendant-focused 'minimum contacts' inquiry by demonstrating contacts between the plaintiff (or third-parties) and the forum State[]" under Walden v. Fiore, 571 U.S. 277, 284 (2014). Id. at 17.

In Walden, the Supreme Court found that a defendant "formed no jurisdictionally relevant contacts" with the forum state of Nevada as "[p]etitioner never traveled to, conducted activities within, contacted anyone in, or sent anything or anyone to Nevada." Walden, 571 U.S. at 289. The Supreme Court further stated that it is impermissible to allow the "plaintiff's contacts with the defendant and forum to drive the jurisdictional analysis." Id. As the Supreme Court explained, the "plaintiff cannot be the only link between the defendant and the forum," and "the defendant's conduct . . . must form the necessary connection with the forum State." Id. at 285. Nevertheless, personal jurisdiction may be found even where a "defendant's contacts with the forum State may be intertwined with his transactions or interactions with the plaintiff or other parties." Id. at 286.

The Plaintiffs' allegations and supporting evidence of intentional investments into BLMIS in New York, selection and use of U.S.-based correspondent accounts, possible due diligence communications with FGG in New York as described above, demonstrate that RCBAG took affirmative actions on its own apart from the conduct of the Plaintiffs. See Opp'n at 22–29, ECF No. 1140. The Liquidators have shown that the Defendant knew and intended that, by investing in the Funds, Defendant's money would enter into U.S.-based BLMIS. Id. at 32; see also Margolin Decl. Ex. 25, ECF No. 1141 (July 2003 Sentry Private Placement Memorandum). This certainty can be found in the Fairfield Funds' contractual obligation to invest at least 95% of the money they received in U.S.-based BLMIS. Opp'n at 7; see Margolin Decl. Ex. 25, at -565 ("The Manager, in its sole and exclusive discretion, may allocate a portion of the Fund's assets (never to exceed, in the aggregate, 5% of the Fund's Net Asset Value at the time of investment) to alternative investment opportunities other than its 'split strike conversion' investments[.]"). Moreover, the Plaintiffs have alleged that the Defendant, through its agent, conducted due diligence investigations and benefited from the materials that it received from FGG which confirmed the investments would be made with BLMIS in New York. Opp'n at 7–8.

The Court thus finds that Defendant's selection and use, through its agent, of U.S. correspondent accounts, due diligence, and communications with FGG concerning investments with BLMIS in New York support the Court's exercise of jurisdiction over the claims for receiving redemption payments from the Fairfield Funds with the knowledge that the NAV was wrong. The contacts are not random, isolated, or fortuitous. The Plaintiffs have thus provided evidence sufficient to support a prima facie showing that the Defendant had minimum contacts with the forum. Accordingly, the Court finds that the Defendant's conduct would also satisfy the "more flexible jurisdictional inquiry" under the Fifth Amendment. See Fuld, 2025 WL 1716140, at *8.

C. WHETHER THE CLAIM ARISES OUT OF OR RELATES TO THE DEFENDANT'S FORUM CONDUCT

The suit must "arise out of or relate to the defendant's contacts with the forum." Ford Motor Co. v. Montana Eighth Jud. Dist. Ct., 592 U.S. 351, 362, 141 S. Ct. 1017, 1026, 209 L. Ed. 2d 225 (2021) (emphasis in original). "[P]roof that a plaintiff's claim came about because of the defendant's in-state conduct" is not required. Id. at 1027. Instead, a court need only find "an affiliation between the forum and the underlying controversy." Goodyear Dunlop Tires

Operations, S.A. v. Brown, 564 U.S. 915, 919 (2011); Picard v. BNP Paribas S.A. (In re BLMIS), 594 B.R. 167, 190 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018) (“Where the defendant’s contacts with the jurisdiction that relate to the cause of action are more substantial, however, it is not unreasonable to say that the defendant is subject to personal jurisdiction even though the acts within the state are not the proximate cause of the plaintiff’s injury.”) (internal quotations omitted).

Defendant argues that the Plaintiffs’ claims are “not predicated on whether the funds they seek to recover were ever placed with or controlled by BLMIS” and “[do] not focus on any investor’s decision to invest in the Funds.” Mem. L. at 16-17. ECF No. 746 (emphasis in original). However, the Liquidators seek imposition of a constructive trust on funds received with knowledge that the NAV was inflated. See Am. Compl. ¶¶ 205–16, No. 679. The issue of knowledge of the inflated NAV is inextricably tied to the Defendant’s investments with New York-based BLMIS. The allegations are directly related to Defendant’s investment activities with BLMIS through the Fairfield Funds. Id. ¶ 207. The Defendant’s contacts with the United States, in investing in, in communications with, and redemptions from the Fairfield Funds, form a “sufficiently close link” between the defendant, the forum and the litigation concerning Defendant’s activities in the forum. See MSP Recovery Claims, Series LLC v. Takeda Pharm. Am., Inc., 2021 WL 4461773, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 29, 2021) (quoting Ford Motor Co., 141 S. Ct. at 1032).

D. WHETHER ASSERTION OF PERSONAL JURISDICTION IS REASONABLE

If a defendant has sufficient minimum contacts, then the Court must ask “whether the assertion of personal jurisdiction comports with ‘traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice’—that is, whether it is reasonable under the circumstances of the particular case.” Bank Brussels Lambert v. Fiddler Gonzalez & Rodriguez, 305 F.3d 120, 129 (2d Cir. 2002) (quoting Metro. Life Ins. Co. v. Robertson-Ceco Corp., 84 F.3d 560, 568 (2d Cir. 1996)); see also Burger

King Corp. v. Rudzewicz, 471 U.S. 462, 476 (1985). Where the plaintiff “makes the threshold showing of the minimum contacts required for [exercising personal jurisdiction], a defendant must present a compelling case that the presence of some other considerations would render jurisdiction unreasonable.” MSP Recovery Claims, Series LLC, 2021 WL 4461773, at *3 (quoting Bank Brussels Lambert, 305 F.3d at 129). Factors the Court will consider include the burden on the defendant, the interests of the forum in adjudicating the case, the plaintiff’s interest in obtaining convenient and effective relief, the interstate judicial system’s interest in obtaining the most efficient resolution of controversies, and the shared interest of the states in furthering fundamental substantive social policies. Id. Indeed, the Supreme Court also evaluated several of these reasonableness factors in Fuld, after it noted that “the Fifth Amendment might entail [an] inquiry into the reasonableness of the assertion of jurisdiction in the particular case.” See Fuld, 2025 WL 1716140, at *11–12.

The Defendant argues that “the interests of the [United States] in this foreign law dispute between foreign parties are minimal.” Reply at 14, ECF No. 1262. Further, they argue that this action is “merely an ‘ancillary’ Chapter 15 proceeding” in which the Court is acting “to aid foreign jurisdictions in administering bankruptcies” Id. (citing In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., 458 B.R. 665, 686 (S.D.N.Y. 2011) (Preska, C.J.)).

Defendant’s reliance on In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd., 458 B.R. 665, is misplaced. In that case, the District Court determined whether the proceeding was core or non-core; it did not determine whether adjudication or jurisdiction in the United States was reasonable. See id. at 675. Further, the Court has already found that it has subject matter jurisdiction over these proceedings. See Fairfield I, 2018 WL 3756343, at *8. Chapter 15 allows for recognition of Sentry’s foreign main proceeding. 11 U.S.C. § 1501(a) (“The purpose of this chapter is to incorporate the Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency so as to provide effective mechanisms for dealing with cases of cross-border insolvency”); id. § 1504 (“A case under this chapter is commenced by the filing of a petition for recognition of a foreign proceeding under section 1515.”). Defendant correctly states that cases brought under Chapter 15 are ancillary to foreign proceedings. See Fairfield I, 2018 WL 3756343, at *2. However, the ancillary character of such cases does not necessarily mean that the United States has minimal interest in the dispute. Indeed, courts have recognized that the United States has a strong interest in ensuring the integrity of its financial systems. See, e.g., Licci IV, 732 F.3d at 174 (“[T]he United States[] and New York [have an] interest in monitoring banks and banking activity to ensure that its system is not used as an instrument in support of terrorism, money laundering, or other nefarious ends.”). This Court has also repeatedly emphasized such interest in other adversary actions related to the BLMIS Ponzi scheme. See Fairfield Sentry Ltd. (In Liquidation), et al. v. HSBC Securities Services (Luxembourg) S.A., et al. (In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd.), 658 B.R. 257, 277 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2024); see also Fairfield Sentry Ltd. (In Liquidation), et al. v. UBS Europe SE, Luxembourg Branch, et al. (In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd.), 657 B.R. 1, 23 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2024).

RCBAG further argues that “Plaintiffs’ sole interest in having this dispute [adjudicated in the United States] is to evade the adverse court rulings against them in BVI.” Id. However, the Court disagrees. Here, the Defendant presumes but fails to establish that the Plaintiffs have no legitimate interest in obtaining relief in the United States — especially considering that this dispute stems from a Chapter 15 proceeding that has intimate connections to the New York-based BLMIS Ponzi scheme. Defendant has not demonstrated how this forum would fail to provide effective relief. See MSP Recovery Claims, Series LLC, 2021 WL 4461773, at *3. RCBAG does not explain what interest is impaired by precluding adjudication in another forum or why that interest outweighs other factors in favor of exercising jurisdiction. See In re Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec. LLC, No. 22 CIV. 6561 (LGS), 2023 WL 395225, at *6 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 25, 2023).

Finally, RCBAG also believes that the burden of litigating this dispute in New York is significant for the Defendant, as the “witnesses and evidence related to [RCBAG] are exclusively overseas.” Reply at 14-15. Moreover, they argue that the burden of further discovery is “magnified by [RCBAG]’s need to comply with Swiss and other bank secrecy and data protection laws.” Id. at 15.

In 2012, this Court granted in part and denied in part a motion seeking relief as to the order staying the action and seeking expedited initial disclosures on certain beneficial holders. See Bench Ruling, Adv. Pro. No. 10-03496, ECF No. 799 (the “July 2012 Bench Ruling”). The Court stated in that ruling that it was “hard-pressed to find any compelling United States’ interest in mandating discovery here at this juncture of the pending litigation.” Id. (emphasis added). Although the defendants before this Court in 2012 were able to describe “the strong and undeniable interest of many nations in enforcing their banking secrecy laws” and “significant bank customer confidentiality laws of no fewer than 30 countries, attested to by numerous declarations of foreign law experts and letters submitted by foreign governments” that could have been implicated or broken by complying with the Court’s prior order, RCBAG now describes a potential exposure to liability under Swiss laws. Id.; see also Reply at 19. This Court lifted the stay and required the Defendant to proceed to discovery in 2021. See Order Lifting Stay, ECF No. 675. The July 2012 Bench Ruling shows that this Court can alleviate specific burdens identified by a defendant. However, the mere potential for exposure to unspecified liability is not a burden that renders exercise of jurisdiction unreasonable.

The Defendant has demonstrated that this Court’s exercise of jurisdiction over it may impose a minimal burden in terms of requiring it to “traverse the distance” to the forum. However, “[e]ven if forcing the defendant to litigate in a forum relatively distant from its home base were found to be a burden, the argument would provide defendant only weak support, if any, because the conveniences of modern communication and transportation ease what would have been a serious burden only a few decades ago.” Chloé v. Queen Bee of Beverly Hills, LLC, 616 F.3d 158, 173 (2d Cir. 2010); see also In re Platinum & Palladium Antitrust Litig., 61 F.4th 242, 273 (2d Cir. 2023). The Defendant has not established that the Court’s exercise of personal jurisdiction over it would be unreasonable. Further, RCBAG is represented by U.S. counsel and the United States has a strong interest in ensuring the integrity of its financial systems. The Court thus finds that exercising jurisdiction over the Defendant is reasonable and comports with “traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice” See Int’l Shoe, 326 U.S. at 316, 66 S. Ct. 154.

V. CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Court DENIES the Defendant's Motion to Dismiss the Amended Complaint. The Liquidators shall submit a proposed order consistent with the findings in this decision in accordance with Local Bankruptcy Rule 9074-1.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
